

Social and Personal.

MISS JELLIS SCOTT was hostess at a very charming tea on Wednesday afternoon between the hours of 5 and 7 o'clock at her home, 1008 Park Avenue, in honor of Miss Jane Walters, of Staunton, the attractive house guest of Miss Margaret Wadley. The parlors and dining-room were most effectively decorated in masses of pink roses, narcissus and shaded candles, a basket of the same flowers being used as a centerpiece for the table.

Miss Scott, who is one of the attractive members of the younger set who have not yet been formally presented to society, wore a gown of apricot with embroidered in pearls and received with the guest of honor, Miss Walters, who wore a gown of white chiffon, trimmed in gold. Others assisting Miss Scott in doing the honors of the occasion were: Misses Sylvia Augustine, in blue messaline; Miss Gray White, in pink chiffon; Lucy Beveridge, in blue chiffon; and Miss Katherine Robinson, in pink messaline. Misses Carrie Wadley, Margaret Wadley, Mary Chambers and Imogen Riddick served.

Dinner for Mrs. Benson, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Clapham, of Washington, entertained a party at dinner Wednesday evening in honor of their house guest, Mrs. Edmund L. Benson, of Richmond. The additional guests were: Captain and Mrs. Marshall and their house guest, Miss Sullivan, of New York; Captain and Mrs. Hannay, Frederick C. Stevens, and John H. Nelson.

Miss Beverly Honored. Mrs. Robert Burwell entertained on Wednesday evening at a small informal supper at her home, 1218 Mount Royal Avenue, Baltimore, in honor of four of the season's most attractive debutantes—Misses Corinne Williams, Rebecca Beverly, Alice Ridgely and Rosalie Braxton Page.

Miss Beverly is a very attractive Virginia girl who is making her debut in Baltimore. She has frequently visited relatives in Richmond, and spends most of her time with relatives in Fauquier county.

Mrs. Smith to Entertain. Mrs. Maurice T. Smith, of 892 West Grace Street, will give an afternoon tea on Thursday, January 20, in honor of Mrs. Robert P. Kerr, of Baltimore, and Mrs. Claude M. Dean. Mrs. Kerr is the wife of Dr. Kerr, for many years pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

Miss Rinehart Engaged. Friends in Richmond are interested in an announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rinehart, of Covington, Va., of the engagement of their daughter, Bessie Lewis, to Christian A. Miller, of San Francisco, Cal. The wedding will be celebrated in June.

Visiting Relatives Here. Mrs. Joseph E. Taylor and Miss Elizabeth Taylor, of Woodland, near Danville, who spent the month of December in New York and the first weeks in January visiting Mrs. Albert Brockett, in Alexandria, are now the guests of relatives in this city.

Huguenot Society to Meet. The annual meeting of the Huguenot Evangelical Society will be held in the First Presbyterian Church on Sunday, January 16, at 8 P. M. The address will be made by the Rev. Sylvester W. Meach, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Princeton, N. J., the same church attended by Grover Cleveland. Dr. Beach was Dr. Hunter Van Dyke's successor, and for two years was the representative of the McCall Mission in Paris, and was connected with the American Chapel there. He will speak of modern conditions in France. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Miss Prince a Bridesmaid. Miss Lullie Prince, of this city, was one of the bridesmaids at the marriage of Miss Bessie Drewry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Blount Drewry, to Eppa Beale Prince, which took place on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Clarksburg Methodist Church, Southampton county.

Birthday Celebration. The birthday of Mrs. Robert Page Grymes was pleasantly celebrated at a family party given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Blount Drewry, to Eppa Beale Prince, which took place on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Clarksburg Methodist Church, Southampton county.

Shirtwaist Strike Shows Woman's Power

BY ELLA WHEELER WILCOX. A quarter of a century ago there was a strike of bakers in Ghent, Flanders. It followed a long period of hard work and starvation wages which the bread-makers had endured, hoping always for the better times and better pay.

look at the faces of the working people met on the streets to know whether they belonged to the co-operative society (called there the Socialists) or to the slaves of the monarchy.

The only happy looking laborers to be met in Flanders or in Brussels were these people who had begun, just as the shirtwaist strikers began, demanding justice and fair play.

The "House of the People." In Brussels the famous "House of the People" was started by striking laborers, and every year it grows more and more prosperous and the outlook is more hopeful for its members.

One cannot help wishing that the young women who have taken their brave stand in the shirtwaist industry might be enabled to establish a co-operative society and begin the manufacture of shirtwaists independent of their employers.

With the right guidance and direction they could make an epoch in the industrial world, if they formed a co-operative organization now, while public sentiment is awakened on the subject.

Co-operation must take the place of competition before these questions can be settled.

The hour has struck for great changes in our industrial system. Before the end of the decade just begun astonishing upheavals will take place; the old things will pass away and a new era will dawn for the rich and the poor.

Women Important Factors. In spite of what seems to be a widening of the abyss between the two classes there was never a time in the world's history when the moneyed people and the laboring classes were in such close touch; when there was so much sympathy felt by so large a class of rich people for the poor; and never were women so awake to the vital questions of the hour as at this present moment.

In England and in America, women are important factors in the world's work. They are powerful influences for good.

When we see women of wealth, reared in the ease of fashion, and accustomed to having every whim gratified, yet giving time, strength and money to the betterment of the conditions of the laboring classes, to the making of kinder and more just laws for the toilers of earth, we need not ask if the world is growing better or worse.

We know its impulse is upward and onward.

Not like a daring, bold, aggressive boy Is inspiration, eager to pursue. But rather like a maiden, fond, yet coy, Who gives herself to him who best doth woo.

Once she may smile, or thrice, thy soul to fire In passing by, yet when she turns her face, Thou must persist and seek her with desire. If thou wouldst win the favor of her grace.

And if, like some winged bird, she cleaves the air, And leaves the spent and stricken on the earth, Still thou must strive to follow even there, That she may know thy valor and thy worth.

Then shall she come, unvailing all her charms, Giving joy for pain, smiles for tears; Then shalt thou clasp her with possessing arms, The while she murmurs music in thine ears.

But ere her kiss has faded from thy cheek She shall flee from thee over hill and glade, And thou shalt seek and ever seek and seek For each new conquest of this phantom maid.

FRENCHMAN CUTS ACROSS COURSE

Apparently an Effort to Retard Flight of Curtiss.

CONTEST MAY DEVELOP

Nothing Wonderful, but Excellent Flights Made at Aviation Meet.

Aviation Field, Los Angeles, Cal., January 13.—While Louis Paulhan, of France, did not do anything so wonderful to-day as flying nearly a mile high, he took up Miscoarol and Malsion, his assistants, and erected the field several times with them in his aeroplane, and cut "cross" in what was said by some to be an attempt to slow down Glenn H. Curtiss, who was flying the regular course at the same time for a ten-lap speed record. The passengers were landed safely.

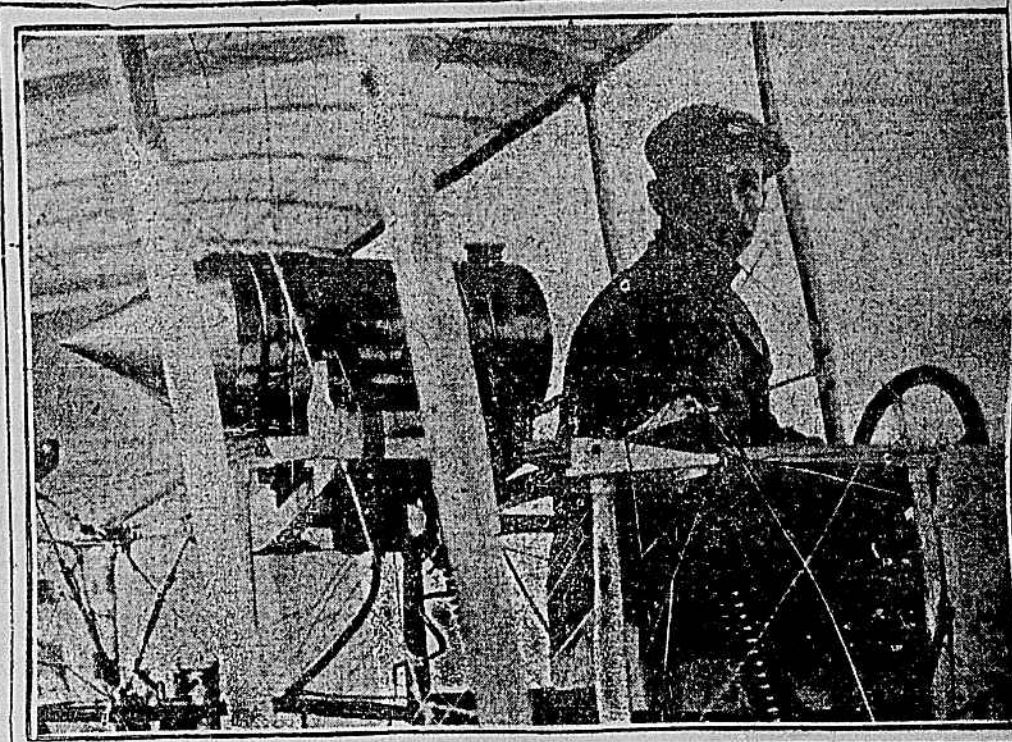

Curtiss's manager protested against Paulhan's getting in the way of the Curtiss machine, and a contest may develop. Curtiss's total time was 21 minutes, 54.2 seconds, not a record. Later, Paulhan tried to beat this, but failed by 5 seconds.

Earlier in the day, with his wife as a passenger, Paulhan made three laps of the course in 3:16.1-3. He flew over the judge's stand after circling the field, and alighted easily in the starting square.

On another flight of 7 minutes, he had Mrs. "Dick" Ferriss as a passenger. He cut corners, flew low over the stands, and she seemed to enjoy his pranks.

Paulhan set the mark at 3:16.1-3 in the official trial for three laps in the passenger-carrying, Madame Paulhan as his passenger.

Curtiss failed to lower the three-lap record, which he set yesterday.

Hamilton, Paulhan, Curtiss and Willard qualified in three-lap flights for all events.

Willard duplicated his feat of starting, flying around the course once and landing in a measured space of twenty feet, winning a prize of $250.

Charles K. Hamilton, in a Curtiss machine, tried for the ten-lap speed record, but landed on his third lap, because of engine trouble.

Charles K. Hamilton to-day made a flight with a rudder wheel tied, to show that the Curtiss machine could be operated without the Wright patents.

Clifford B. Harmon, of New York, announced that he would attempt in the second week of February from San Antonio, Tex. in the balloon New York, to break the world's distance record of 1,200 miles. Harmon also will try to lift the Lahm cup, now held by A. Holland Forbes, who made 693 miles in a straight line.

Fitzgerald—Womack.

Chatham, Va., January 13.—Mr. Mary Womack and James Morgan Fitzgerald were married at the home of the bride's father, C. A. Womack, in Pittsylvania county, seven miles from this place, Tuesday afternoon.

Rev. N. J. Pruden, of the Elba Methodist Church, performing the ceremony. The ushers were Dr. L. C. Womack, of this place, and S. S. Womack, of New York, brothers of the groom.

The groom was attended by his best man, Walter Noel, of Danville. The ring-bearer was little Miss Hollitzgerald, sister of the groom, a maid of honor, Miss Anna B. Womack. The bride entered with her brother, Dr. Charles Womack, of Pittsylvania, who gave her away.
